Of the pecuniary responsibility of the lessees, upon the information attainable by the committee, they are of the opinion that the Southern Security company has suffered great losses within the past two years, and is probably unable to fulfill the obligations of the lease, so far as relates to the payment of money, otherwise than that derived money, otherwise than that derived from the earnings of the railroad; and is unwilling, or indisposed, to apply money to this end derived from other sources, and is scarcely compellable to do so against the will of its managers. Legal proceedings to enforce against the lessees performance of the terms of the lease, the committee are of opinion, would not probably be effectual. Made by the Merchants' Committee Yesterday,

Districts,

At a meet mg of the relief committee,

The Memphis and Charleston rall-road stockholders met pursuant to adjournment, in Assembly hall, at eleven o'clock yesterday morning. Colonel William Johnson, of Charleston, North Carolina, presiding. The committee appointed the day previous to inquire into the solvency of the Southern Rallway Security company, and the policy of resembles and Charleston rallroad, made the following report, which was adopted; the action of the meeting being quiet and harmonious:

Of the condition of the properties of the railroad, the committee are of opinion that these properties are in good condition; in all things better than when put into the hands of the lessees, excepting the iron rails; in this respect damages arising from any breach of said covenants and conditions on either side.

It is An Astonishing Turn-Out,

J. R. McCullers is distinguished for the elegance of hacks which he exhibits at 42 Adams street. So beautiful are they that it seems a foul shame to have them smashed and jarred by the horri-ble streets and dismal, barbarous, savage trackways of the street railway. Yes-terday McCullers drove through the principal streets in a magnificent open carriage that cost fifteen hundred dollars at the great carriage factory of John & at the great carriage factory of John & A. P. Morgan, on Second near Adams street. Everybody admired the splendid vehicle, the taste evinced by the buildvehicle, the taste evinced by the bund-ers, and its capability of enduring the horrors of propulsion over the cavernous Nicolson. The harness, too, is of home manufacture, having been made by Ferguson & Privett. But we especially advise everybody to look at hack No. 45, by all odds the most magnificent, with the fleetest, finest horses in Mem-phis. McCullers's head is a little turned about it, but we can't help admitting about it, but we can't help admitting that all other backmen look enviously upon the coach and train worthy of the Frand Duke or of our own sweet Master Grant.

Whether advisable to cancel the lease and resume possession and control of the railroad, without going into detail of the particular reasons, the committee are of opinion that it is the interest of the Memphis and Charleston railroad company to ratify and confirm the agreement to this end, which has been entered into by the board of directors of the company and the management of the Southern Security company.

The several officers of the Security company promptly met the committee, turnishing by written and oral statements all desired information. The chief engineer—Mr. Miles Merriweller—satisfied your committee that your railroad, bridges, fixtures, etc., in their present condition, are in all respects fully equal, and probably better, than at the beginning of the lease, in July, 1872. Captain W. J. Ross, the superfinite data, with detailed state ments from the master mechanic in the shops, testified that the fixtures and rolling stock in all respects are now fully equal in condition and capacity, and probably superior to that in July, 1872. tee this morning from reliable gentlemen from Bolivar county, men who come to us indorsed by our best citizens, we learn that the whole country in the neighborhood of lake Bolivar is submerged; that not less than four thousand people are overflowed in that district alone; and unless prompt and effectual assistance be rendered, actual starvation must ensure. This is only one of many instances requiring the most prompt and energetic
